TESTIMONIALS.

RHEUMATISM, &c.—"Henry's Thilum" has been used in my own family, and its use recommended by me to others. As an emollient, anodyne and detergent application, it is of Surpassing Virtue. In Rheumatic affections its efficacy, when well rubbed in, cannot be questioned, while its fragrance effectually meets one of the greatest objections to unguents in general.

W. J. VAN SOMEREN, M. D.,
Surgeon General (Madras Retired.)
Burmore, Bridge of Allan, 23rd June, 1881.

RINGWORM.—For the last twelve months I had been suffering from Ringworm about my neck, which did not yield to any of the various remedies I used. Having got a box of "Henry's Thilum" from you, I made no hesitation in trying it. Six or seven applications of the ointment in two days completely cured me of the disease. I am much delighted to communicate to you this result of my trial of your "Thilum" with a view to your recommending it as a Specific for Ringworm.

MAHOMED ISMAIL HAJEE ZENAL ABDIN.
Bombay, 26th May, 1881.

HEMICRANIA AND SCORPION STINGS.—I have used "Thilum" for a pain which I was subject to on one side of my head and face, and it gave me immediate relief. I have also applied "Thilum" for Scorpian stings, and find that it takes much effect and gives immediate relief.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 23.

BUSINESS to-day has been almost a blank, with the one exception, perhaps of the Share Market, which has been lively in the extreme with another important rise in Spinning shares. From home the public telegrams did not come to hand until after business hours; nor did they then give anything particularly new. Consols 101⅛, French Rentes 120, 3½ per cent. Indian Loan 103⅜, Rupee Paper 4 per cent. 86½, 4½ per cent. 92½, being all the same as on Thursday.

The Produce markets are almost equally unchanged, Coffee, Cocoanut Oil, Linseed, and Rapeseed coming as previously quoted; Wheat firm and partially the turn dearer.

The Manchester Piece-goods market is reported quiet but firm, and Cotton in Liverpool yesterday closed dull, sales 7,000 bales, prices unchanged on the spot, but 3-32d. lower for American future delivery. From New York ready Mid-Uplands are still quoted at 11 11-16 cents, but October shipment has advanced from 10·56 to 10·62 cents per lb. again.

Our usual weekly comparison of the statistical position of the staple is subjoined. The total visible supply for all Europe has again diminished by 100,000 bales, and the stock in Liverpool is less by 24,000 bales. The former item, however, still shows an excess over last season of 275,000 bales, and the latter of 100,000 bales, so that spinners have no call to fear a scarcity of Cotton. On the contrary, if the American crop turns out as it at present promises, the reverse will be the case at no distant date; and while people talk of Cotton being cheap now, we think it quite possible that the coming season may see an average of something like fifteen per cent. under the present level.

The American Crop figures to date give the following comparisons with the past two seasons:—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
Week's Receipts	19,000	13,000	4,000
" Exports to U. K.	26,000	18,000	7,000
" " to Continent	12,000	6,000	400
Total Receipts since 1st Sept.	5,677,400	4,866,000	4,420,800
" Exports to U. K. "	2,960,000	2,469,000	2,012,700
" " to Continent "	1,707,700	1,280,900	1,391,000
" Stock in the Ports	287,000	214,000	136,000

The visible supply of Cotton for all Europe on the 22nd instant gives the following comparisons with the two previous years:—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
Total supply of all kinds	2,090,000	1,715,540	1,330,740
" " " Surats	301,000	178,850	452,800

For the U. K. only the figures are:—

Stock in Liverpool	802,000	702,120	540,610
" London	47,000	58,080	44,370
American Afloat	90,000	117,000	29,000
E. Indian "	100,000	122,000	170,000
	1,039,000	999,200	783,980
Price of Mid-Uplands	6 5-8d.	6 13-16d.	6 9-16d.
" Fair Dhollera	4 3-16d.	4 15-16d.	5½d.
Difference..	2 7-16d.	1½d.	1 5-16d.

EXCHANGE.—There has been nothing passing in sterling to-day, and rates have been unchanged but steady. Reuter quotes Bar Silver at 51⅝d.; but private messages, we hear, quote 51½d., and report in some cases says 51⅝d. In any case the metal seems firm, and should the loan on Monday go to European tenderers, it is not unlikely that we may see a further advance for a time at least. We quote:—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7 23-32d.	per rupee.
Do. telegraphic	1s. 7 11-16d.	"
Do. 3 months' sight	1s. 7 13-16d.	"
Credits, " "	1s. 7 15-16d.	"
Documents, 3 " "	1s. 7 31-32d.	"
Francs, 3 " "	2·10½ to 2·11	"

On Calcutta we quote demand drafts at par to 1-16 per cent. premium, 60 days' sight at 7-16 per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER has ruled very steady, but transactions have not been numerous, operators holding off pending result of the new loan. Considerable diversity of opinion prevails as to the figure likely to be obtained, but the general idea appears to be in favour of Rs. 105, or a shade over. So much depends, however, on what London may do that it is most difficult to form a correct idea. One thing seems pretty certain, and that is that Bombay is tendering for very little.

SHARES.—The market continues active; a large speculative business is doing, and as a general rule prices are again higher. Spinning and Weaving Mill shares meet the bulk of the enquiry and are again Rs. 10 to Rs. 15 higher, Orientals and Manockjee Petits being most in favour. Press Companies are firm and higher. Agra Bank have advanced to Rs. 132.

In COTTON we have not heard of any business having been done for export, and prices are practically unchanged.

SEEDS are the same. WHEAT is quicker and a trifle lower in price.

FREIGHTS are not active, but the market is very steady at 37s. 6d. for Liverpool. It is reported that a considerable business has been done for Marseilles, September shipment, at 35s., payable at port of discharge.

PIECE-GOODS are unaltered: dull on the spot, next to nothing doing to arrive.

COALS are unchanged, with buyers, but no sellers, of distant delivery.

MONDAY, JULY 25, 1881.

IN noticing lately at some length the Revised Translation of the New Testament put out by the Committee appointed for the purpose by the Convocation of Canterbury, we drew particular attention to one incidental advantage of no little moment, which it seemed to us reasonable to expect from the appearance of such a work under such sanction. That the original texts, which must form the basis of any translation of the New Testament, present, like other books, uncertain readings and passages of doubtful interpretation, and that the authorship and date of some of them are open questions in literary criticism, has of course always been known to scholars. But in the minds of the common people—if we may use an old phrase in its old meaning—a theory with regard to the equal authenticity and equal importance of every letter in their English Bible has fixed itself, which not only ignores all such critical difficulties, but is absolutely inconsistent with them. The origin of this way of looking at the matter is to be found in the great stress laid by the Reformers, in their struggle with the Papacy, on the testimony of our sacred books. The decline of scholarship which marked the century succeeding the Reformation may be responsible in some measure for its growth. In our own day we are warranted in saying that the religious teachers who still cling to the doctrine of verbal inspiration are either ignorant of all that has been done in the domain of scientific theology, or not disinclined to participate in a pious fraud. As to the strength of the sentiment which has transferred a theory that never fitted the original Scriptures to a version to which it is still less applicable, we need say nothing. We are all unhappily familiar with the religious controversialist who can, and does, build a theory of the universe on a single metaphorical expression. And—apart from such absurdities—the sentiment has undoutedly been strong enough to render nugatory all the efforts of individual scholars to supply us with an improved translation of the Bible, the radical confusion of ideas on the subject having recently received an amusing illustration in the outcry which has been raised against the present Revisers in cases where they have made changes that are not only warranted, but absolutely demanded by the original Greek. This superstitious reverence for the letter of an imperfect translation of a book which has itself not escaped the ravages to which all books are liable cannot, we believe, long survive the issue of the Revised Version. That translation is the work of men chosen primarily for their qualifications as scholars; and from the plan pursued it forces home on every page the conviction that the text of the New Testament, and all matters connected with the text and its interpretation, are subjects on which no honest student of the book can afford to dispense with the best scholarship that may be at the time available. This change in the way of regarding the Bible cannot but be of great advantage in many ways: but we are free to confess that it is with dismay and disappointment that we have seen in recent proceedings in Scotland how great the need of a revolution in this matter is, and how very slight the progress that has yet been made.

For, by a coincidence which was of course unintentional, but which is all the more startling, the Church of Scotland, in one of its most important branches, has taken the very moment at which the appearance of the first instalment of the work of the Revisers of the English Bible has magnified the office of critical scholarship in theology to mark in the most emphatic way how it proposes to deal with any of its members who shall approach the Scriptures from the critical point of view. The Free Church of Scotland possesses two Hebrew scholars—and only two—whose names are known beyond its own communion. And the Supreme Court of that Church has now decided, by a majority, that the younger of these scholars

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLAHABAD, JULY 24.

Several wild rumours are current regarding events at Kandahar. It seems pretty certain that the mutinous body of Ayoub's army has not advanced further than Diadanak or Mahmudabad.

From the latter place Hassim Khan has written to Kazi Saaduddin proposing a meeting half way between the opposing forces, in order to see if they could not come to some arrangement. Shamsuddin Khan, suspecting a trick, replied that he would enter into no negotiations until he had turned Ayoub out of the country. He has sent orders to Kazi Saaduddin to attack Hassan Khan without delay.

The Alizai and Barakzai sowars who were with the Amir's army at Girishk are reported to have dispersed to their homes.

It is said to be Ayoub's intention to send a body of 200 or 300 horse across the Helmund to Sinjbar, to stir up the country and cut off supplies.

General Ghulam Haidar Khan has left Kandahar for Girishk.

A TELEGRAM has been received from the Political Resident, Aden, dated 22nd July, stating that the following telegram has been received from Alexandria, in consequence of cessation of plague in Mesopotamia since June 27 :—"Egyptian Sanitary Council decided to-day that arrivals from Persian Gulf must undergo forty-eight hours' quarantine at Moses Wells, Suez. Susceptible goods disinfected at Aden are admitted to Egypt, except rags and highly susceptible goods. Vessels carrying such goods are not allowed pratique, but may transmit through Suez Canal in quarantine."

CAPTAIN HUGH DE LA M. HERVEY, 1st Punjab Cavalry, has been awarded the medal of the Royal Humane Society for a gallant rescue of a native soldier of his regiment from drowning.

THE Raja of Nahun is expected shortly to visit Simla to pay his respects to the Viceroy.

THERE is a report that the Hon'ble A. Mackenzie, Secretary to the Bengal Government, will shortly go on furlough for a year.

THE office of Second Assistant Secretary in the Military Department of the Government of India, at present held by Captain H. A. Sawyer, it is believed is likely to come under the shears of the advocates of reduction in military expenditure.

THE Englishman believes it has been decided that the installation of the young Maharaja of Burdwan by His Honour the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal will take place at Darjiling on the 28th of August.

To the proposal of M. de Giers for the appointment of a Political Agent at Meshed, with the title of Consul General, the Shah has, the Pioneer hears, raised no objection ; "and has even promised to refuse to have an English Consulate established at Meshed."

IT is said that the Government of India is considering the desirability of impressing on the Government of Bengal the necessity for establishing a cheaper and quicker river service with Assam than at present exists, as the two companies at present running the Bhramapootra do not seem disposed to lower their rates.

H. E. THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF IN INDIA is expected to visit Assam and Cachar early next cold weather, and inspect all the cantonments and garrisons in that remote part of India. From what a contemporary hears, such an inspection is rather urgently needed.

IT is stated that the Allahabad lottery in connection with the Anglo-Indian and Eurasian Association is likely to be drawn on the 17th of next month. Further particulars will no doubt be announced as soon as the lottery is closed.

THE East Indian Railway Company had a total of 545 locomotive engines working on the line on the 31st December last. According to a high authority in such matters, a railway is deemed to be efficiently equipped only with an engine per mile of line. That estimate, a Calcutta paper notes, leaves the East Indian line but little over one-third of the locomotive power it should have.

IN anticipation of the increased third-class traffic, on the reduction of the third-class fare from three pies to two and a half pies per mile, the East Indian Railway Company has been called upon to provide additional locomotives and third class carriages. Sixty-four locomotives and 200 carriages are being added to the rolling-stock of the company.

A TELEGRAM from Simla, dated July 18, from the Civil and Military Gazette's "own correspondent" states :—"Sir A. C. Lyall will not go on leave so soon as he intended, owing to Afghan complications. The latest news from Kandahar is very unfavourable to the Amir. The influential Sirdars are deserting to Ayoub."

THE same paper publishes some further stories from Kabul which will not tend to reassure well-wishers of the Amir. One story is to the effect that Sirdar Sultan Mahomed Khan, recently imprisoned by the Amir, has been starved to death by His Highness. It is rumoured in Kabul that he was also subjected to cruel tortures. The Sirdar had been accused of treason and wealth. Our contemporary suggests that perhaps the Sirdar might have escaped prison and the thumbscrews if he had had more rupees to dispose of. Malik Akbar Khan and Bahadur Khan, both of Maidan, were liberated on giving bail to the amount of a lakh. Another unpleasant story states that Maiulla Khan, Taj Mahomed Khan, Faiz Mahomed Khan, and Hamid Khan, who fled from Kabul four or five months ago, trusting to the promises of the Amir, who is said to have sworn on the Koran that no harm would be done to their colleague Maizulla, if sent to Kabul on a mission in their name, recently despatched the latter on his mission to the Amir. Maizulla, on arrival, was accommodated at the Kabul Governor's residence. Finding in course of time that his movements were jealously watched, and that sentries had been put over his place of abode, he suspected foul play, and wrote a letter to his three friends, warning them to be on their guard. The letter was intercepted by the Amir, who, in spite of the Koran, chopped off Maizulla's head.

IN consequence of several cases of defalcation or embezzlement, in connection with the Postal Department, owing, presumably, to the want of a proper check over the disbursements made by the district post offices in the mofussil, a Calcutta paper says the Controller of Postal Accounts has recommended the re-establishment of the Check Branch of his office. The Check Branch, it will be remembered, was abolished in July last year, when the services of a large number of native clerks were dispensed with against the wishes of the then Compiler of Postal Accounts.

THE following is the account of the Peshawur correspondent of the Pioneer of the attack on a British picquet near Peshawur :—"On Tuesday evening, the 19th instant, at 10-30 p.m., the post at the junction of the Circular and Jamrud roads, Peshawur, held by a picquet of the 19th Bengal Lancers, was attacked by a raiding party. The sentry saw some men coming, but the answer to his challenge had quieted suspicion, when one of the raiders shot him down. Almost instantaneously all the picquet, six in number, were shot down, and knifed, the dufladar alone escaping, after firing on the raiders without effect. The attacking party then made good their escape, and by the time the news had spread pursuit was impossible. The raiders cut the telegraph wire on their line of retreat, within a mile of the post attacked. It is still doubtful who the raiders were."

THE Madras Mail has "had the satisfaction of hearing from home, on excellent authority, that no reductions in the Madras Army are contemplated at present. In his individual capacity as a Bengal Officer who was never in Madras Sir Frederick Roberts is committed to views about the strength of the Coast Army which he will probably feel justified in modifying, when in his capacity as Commander-in-Chief, Madras, he has acquired additional information on the subject."

AMONG other matters at present under discussion by the authorities, says the Lahore paper, is the advisability of rescinding the rules under which a member of the Civil Service retains a lien on his appointment when he goes on furlough, it having been found that, under the rule as it at present stands, changes are constantly occurring among the holders of various appointments. Should the rule be altered and a civil servant, on return from furlough, be placed for the time being upon subsistence allowance become, in fact, a sort of "general-duty-wallah"—it would of course have the effect of almost putting a stop to the taking of furlough. In the Punjab, for instance, a man on return to duty might have to wait for a couple of years before obtaining another appointment.

IN reference to the renewed disturbances among the Bheels, it is stated that in the Pol district the bunniahs are believed to have incited the ryots to coerce the Rao, in the hope of obtaining a reduction of their own rents and payments to the Chief. Major Goodfellow's action in signing the thirty-eight articles was taken solely with a view to prevent disturbances ; but the concession he made only encouraged the malcontents in their course of action. The Bheels of Pol are related to those of Meywar, and have long been notorious for their lawlessness. The Rao was ordered, long ago, to keep up 100 armed men for his own protection, but this he declined to do. He is an avaricious man, anxious only to amass money ; and his royts may have some cause of complaint against him. He has fallen a victim to his own short-sighted policy, and now does not know which way to turn ; as, unless his subjects really begin pillaging, the Government are not likely to send troops against them. The Allahabad paper says that a conference of officers well versed in Bheel politics will assemble at Abu in the cold weather, and the whole question of dealing with these tribes will then be discussed. The Agent to the Governor-General, Rajputana, is now at Ahmedabad conferring with the Bombay authorities ; and in a few days we may expect to hear what measures have been taken to disperse the emigrant Bheels who came into collision with the police at Gullora.

ON the Eurasian soldier question the Lahore paper further remarks :—At the very least, the Anglo-Indian and Eurasian forces could man our garrisons, occupy new positions, and preserve lines of communication, thus releasing the regular troops for active service in the field. Add the Volunteer forces, brought under common control, and formed into a single organisation for the whole of India, and we should have a force upon which we might very confidently rely for maintaining order within Indian limits, in the event of such a disturbance from without as might necessitate the employment of the British and Indian armies on the frontier."

MR. GLADSTONE has sent, through Mr. E. W. Hamilton, one of his secretaries, a long reply to the chairman of the Sugar Operatives Committee of London, on the policy of meeting the bounties on imported sugar by countervailing duties. After pointing out that the field of employment in the sugar trade has been extended and not contracted of late years, Mr. Gladstone says he has been advised on the highest legal authority that the imposition of such duties would be inconsistant with what is known as "the most-favoured-nation clause" in our commercial treaties with foreign nations. The difficulty of discovering where each importation of sugar had been grown, which would be necessary if countervailing duties were adopted, is, in the Prime Minister's opinion, insuperable. Mr. Gladstone thinks it needless to revert to the economical objections to the proposed policy, which have been often stated ; and in conclusion he regrets that no good is likely to result from continuing the correspondence.

IT is a provision of the law that no prisoner under sentence of imprisonment or transportation shall be removed from the jail in which he has been confined by order of the court sentencing him to imprisonment, until the period of appeal has expired ; or if at that time an appeal is pending, until the decision of the appellate court is known. A case of the total disregard of this rule—which of course is intended to prevent unnecessary delay in effecting a man's release after his acquittal, and to save him inconvenience from being enlarged at some place far from his home, and probably without funds to pay his way back—recently occurred at Kohat. One Abdulla Shah, under sentence of transportation, was a prisoner in the jail of that district. Pending the decision of his appeal, the prisoner was transferred to the jail at Rawul Pindi. An endeavour was made to prevent this by pointing out the law ; but the Deputy Commissioner insisted, and the transfer was made. Four days after Abdulla Shah was acquitted by the Chief Court ; but he will have to wait some little time for his release. The warrant for his discharge must go to the Commissioner of Peshawur, by whom it will be duly forwarded to the Deputy Commissioner of Kohat, who will return it to the Commissioner of Peshawur to be transmitted to the Commissioner of Rawulpindi (at Murree) for communication to the Deputy Commissioner of that district, and, through him, to the Superintendent of the jail. Meanwhile, an application by counsel for leave to telegraph to Rawul Pindi direct, the Lahore paper says, has been refused by a judge in chambers.

H. E. SIR JAMES FERGUSSON. AT SHOLAPORE.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

SHOLAPORE, JULY 22.

THE good people of Sholapore have been much gratified by the visit to their town of H. E. the Governor of Bombay. His Excellency, who was accompanied by Col. Merriman, Mr. Robertson, Commissioner of the Central Division, and Mr. Hart, left Poona by ordinary train at seven o'clock on Thursday morning, arriving at Sholapore in the evening. Some of the stations on the line were decorated with flags and greenery, and at most of them the platforms were ornamented by the railway police standing at attention and looking somewhat uncomfortable in their heavy boots. A crowd of natives had gathered at several of the stations, in the hope, probably, of catching a glimpse of His Excellency ; and few of them were disappointed, for Sir James alighted at the places at which the train stopped for a minute or two. At Sholapore a guard of honour of the G. I. P. Railway Volunteers was drawn up outside the station to receive H. E. the Governor. Large crowds were assembled on the platform and in the station compound, and gave His Excellency a most cordial reception. The station was nicely decorated, a large number of beautiful plants forming the chief portion of the adornments, although flags, &c., were not wanting.

By taking this journey to Sholapore the Governor of Bombay had an opportunity of acquainting himself with the character of the country which some three years ago was devastated by a terrible famine. He could observe that much of it was stony ground, and that the cultivated portion—which might be much larger than it is—presented a tolerably fair appearance. As yet there has been hardly any rain in Sholapore and the district, and although up to the present the deficiency has been rather favourable than otherwise to the cultivators, rain will be anxiously looked for within the next week or two, and should it hold off for a much longer period the consequences will be disastrous. The sad effects of the last famine were still to be seen near the railway line, in the form of ruined villages which a few years ago were thickly populated, but are now quite deserted, the inhabitants having either died of hunger, or in some other way left their homes never to return. In this part of the world especially, a scarsity of water means misery and death, whilst a good supply means happiness and prosperity. It is therefore easy to understand the importance which the people of Sholapore attach to everything connected with water either for the use of the inhabitants of the town, or for the irrigation of the fields in the country. With regard to irrigation in the Sholapore district, something more might perhaps be done to bund the water, which during and after the rainfall runs to waste, as it were. The natural formation of some parts of the country seems particularly well adapted for works of this kind.

Water had a great deal to do with the visit of the Governor of Bombay to Sholapore ; for with His Excellency formally opened the water-works of the town. On the outskirts of the native town a temporary structure was erected, to which a few European ladies and gentlemen, the Municipality of Sholapore, and some of the leading natives of the place were admitted. On a high bank just outside were congregated hundreds of natives, who watched, apparently with much satisfaction, the proceedings that were taking place below them. In the vicinity of this place there were many flags, and some arches which bore mottoes expressive of the greatest good will towards the Governor of Bombay. His Excellency having arrived and taken his place upon the platform, Mr. Darashah, D., the chairman of the Sholapore Municipality stepped forward and read the following address :—

To His Excellency the Right Hon. Sir James Fergusson, Bart, K.C.M.G.,C.I.E., Governor of Bombay, &c., &c.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,—We, the Municipal Commissioners of this city, in bidding your Excellency heartily welcome on behalf of the inhabitants of Sholapore, find it difficult to express in adequate terms our sense of the honour conferred on us by your Excellency's visit. We are glad of this opportunity of showing our gratitude for the benefits of the British Rule, our loyalty to her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress. We are exceedingly grateful [illegible] has found time, amid the many and important [illegible] claiming your Excellency's attention, to accept our invitation to come and open the Sholapore water-works.

The history of those works shows the magnitude of the boon conferred on the inhabitants of Sholapore by their successful completion. For hitherto the people have been dependent for their supply of water on a tank in the outskirts of the city, known as the Shidheshwar tank. In years of drought or scanty rainfall this tank contains little or no water, and the usual supply has been found quite adequate to meet the needs of a growing population and a spreading trade. The drought of 1876 and the following years made the want of good drinking water so strikingly apparent that our late Collector, Mr. Percival, started a scheme for pumping the water of the Ekruk tank canal to a height from which it could easily be brought into the city through pipes. Mr. Percival bestowed much consideration on the subject and had estimates prepared. The sanction of Government was obtained, and a loan of R 1,91,000 in order to carry out the work. Our present Collector took up the project with characteristic vigour. He has vanquished every difficulty that stood in the way, and has now the satisfaction of seeing the completion of the scheme projected by his predecessor.

We have resolved to beg your Excellency to be kind enough to name the low service reservoir after Mr. Spry, and the high service reservoir after Mr. Percival, as an appropriate acknowledgment of the exertions of both gentlemen.

We should be guilty of ingratitude did we forget to express our thanks to Mr. Burke, Executive Engineer for Irrigation, under whose direct supervision the work has been carried out. If he had been willing to accept it, we should have been glad to present him with a testimonial as a small token of our sense of the value of his services.

We hope we may be allowed to take this opportunity of expressing, in the name of the people of this district, our gratitude to Goverment for the measures which have been taken for averting famine by the construction of canals and railways, and the diffusion of a scientific knowledge of agriculture. In spite of the plentiful crops of the last three years the people of Sholapore have not been able to forget the indescribable horrors of the last famine. The precarious character of the rainfall renders a recurrence of such horrors possible. But we trust that the efforts of Government to secure happiness and plenty to the cultivators of the soil may be crowned with success. And it is our earnest prayer that your Excellency may be blessed with health and prosperity, and may be enabled to advance though life the good of the people of this country.

Mr. T. B. Burke then spoke as follows :—Your Excellency,—I am requested by the Municipality to ask you to honour them by declaring the Sholapore water-works formally open to the public. Before so doing, I request your permission to detain you a few moments while I briefly describe the nature of the works. As your Excellency is aware a large work—the Ekruk tank—has been constructed by Government, and is situated about three miles due north of this town. From this tank three canals are taken, which are designed to irrigate the land in the vicinity. The largest of these canals is the immediate source of the Sholapore water-supply ; and from the fourth mile the water is drawn off into a settling tank, which has a storage capacity equal to about five days of the whole estimated supply. From this settling tank water is pumped by means of two specially arranged direct acting steam pumps through a ten-inch iron main pipe into two service reservoirs, one situated at a low level which commands the greater part of the town, and the other at the high level commands the high lying parts of the town as well as the suburbs. From these reservoirs water is distributed throughout the town and its environs by iron pipes of various dimensions, which, including the main, extend to about eight inches in length. The water is delivered through sixty-eight stand posts, with push valves, which being self-closing prevent all waste. Hydrant arrangements are provided to the majority of the stand posts for use in cases of emergency, such as fire. The works were commenced on the 6th November, 1879, and water was delivered into the town on the 21st March of this year. The supply in the canal, from which water is taken, is practically unlimited. The estimated allowance per head of population is five gallons, that is the total quantity to be delivered in the town is estimated at 253,330 gallons daily. Each steam pump is capable of raising 200,000 gallons in ten hours, or if worked continuously, that is, throughout the day, the supply can be increased to double that estimated, or to ten gallons per head of the population per diem, which, I may say, is in excess of what experience proves to be required during the months of the hot season, when most water is consumed. The necessary power is provided in duplicate, that is, two steam pumps have been erected and are so arranged, that either can be worked separately in case of accident to the other, or can be combined in case of emergency so as to give out double the effect ordinarily required. The estimated cost of the works is Rs. 2,18,799, or at the rate of rather less than Rs. 4 per head of population supplied. With your Excellency's permission, I take this opportunity of expressing my acknowledgments to those who have been associated with me in this work ; to Mr. Percival, the late, and Mr. Spry, the present, Collectors of Sholapore, for the cordial co-operation with, and assistance rendered to, me, by the former while the scheme was under preparation, and by the latter during the time which the progress of the construction of the works ; to Mr. Dawson, who, as Assistant Engineer in charge of the works, always gave me most willing and able assistance ; to Messrs. Cruddas and Company, the contractors, for the machinery, and Messrs. Graham and Company, the contractors for the iron pipes, who carried out their contracts to my entire satisfaction. I now request your Excellency to do us the honour of performing the opening ceremony, and declaring the water-works open to the public.

His Excellency the Governor said.—It is with great interest and pleasure that I am privileged to perform the final ceremony connected with this great boon and blessing to the city of Sholapore. I am aware that already the water has for some time been laid on, so that the advantage, blessing, and comfort of it have been enjoyed ; but still I think it is fitting that he who has the honour of being at the head of the Government should mark by his visit the importance of an occasion that has so much good in store for the population. In this great land of India we find the blessings of Divine Providence in a measure fitted to provide for the happiness and prosperity of the great and teeming population. These blessings, given to us in the wisdom of Divine Providence, are not meant as substitutes for energy, skill, and care on the part of man ; for without such these gifts must be wasted, and suffering would be entailed on those for whom rulers had not shown due foresight. Without that peace which good government gives, the passions of men would ravage the country and cause great suffering to the population. Without those plans which our intellect and scientific study can supply, the great blessings derived from the soil and water would not be applied to the objects for which they are designed. And thus it has been found necessary by wise rulers in all ages in this country to store up the water so liberally provided, so that whatever be the seasons which may befall us, the people may not suffer on this account. You know well, particularly in this Deccan, we are apt to experience long droughts, during which the cultivation would fail and vast numbers of people would die unless special means were taken to provide against such emergencies ; and I trust that this work, designed with so much skill and carried out with so much success, is destined to save the lives of many and provide for the comfort of all. We cannot forget the years gone by in which so many thousands of our fellow subjects perished. The spectre of famine is one which, once raised, is slowly laid ; and those who have witnessed, as thank God I have not, the terrible sufferings of past years may well rejoice in a work which offers great immunity from similar sufferings. I trust the efforts of Government will not be slack in providing against the recurrence of similar calamity. It will undoubtedly happen to us that times of want will follow years of plenty. To provide for future times of need, I wish that these works progressed more rapidly. I wish more railways were drawn from one part of the country to another, so that the superfluity of one part might supply the wants of another. But you know that if Government moves too fast the resources of the people would be too largely drawn upon and taxation would be unduly increased. Therefore we must be patient ; and I trust when times of need shall again arise it will be found that Government has not been negligent or idle. I must say a few words more with regard to the water-works. The magnitude upon which they have been designed compares favourably with the moderate cost at which they have been constructed. I am not surprised to find, in a protest which has reached me, that there is not complete satisfaction in regard to the water provided, or the price at which it is sold. But it would be surprising, with the small experience you have had of this water-supply, if in every respect it was perfect. I think you—the native inhabitants of Sholapore particularly—may have confidence in the foresight displayed by successive collectors, the energy of the Municipality, and the skill of the engineers. The work will not stop here ; any deficiency found to exist, and any inequalities of price, will be remedied. You ought to go to the local authorities before coming to me. In cases of this kind Government should be the last resort ; in the first place, the energy and zeal of the local authorities should be appealed to—and they are generally found ample. When you come to us, I trust you will not find us slow to do anything that is right ; therefore I am not going to give any answer in detail to that address which has come to me, but will refer you to my good friend Mr. Spry. I have only to say that the welcome you have given me to-day is extremely gratifying on the occasion of this my first visit. Though I was not able to visit Sholapore in the first year of my administration, I had always intended that it should be the first step in my tour in the cold weather. With reference to this visit, I shall carry away the most agreeable recollections of the cordiality with which I have been received, and the great work with which it will always be in my mind associated.

A very handsomely carved silver-mounted blackwood key was then presented to His Excellency, who with it turned on the water of the two reservoirs. The key bore the following inscription :—

opened by
H. E. SIR JAMES FERGUSSON, BART., K.C.M.G., C.I.E., Governor of Bombay, 1881.

Col. the Hon. C. J. Merriman, C.S.I., R.E., Secretary to Gov. P. W. D.
J.H.E. Hart, C.E., M. Inst. C.E., Superintending Engineer for Irrigation.
Key hole
A. H. Spry, C.S., Collector and President, Sholapore Municipality.

The works were designed and executed by C. T. Burke, R.E., Assoc. M. Inst. C.E., Executive Engineer for Irrigation, Sholapore and Ahmednuggur, Cost of works, Rs. 2,18,799.

His Excellency then named one of the reservoirs the "Spry" reservoir, and the other the "Percival" reservoir. Then attar, and flowers having been distributed, His Excellency, accompanied by several gentlemen, was driven to the reservoir. Later on in the day His Excellency the Governor visited the High School and distributed prizes to the pupils. He afterwards paid a visit to the Sholapore Mills and other places, and left for Ahmednugger by the mail-train the same evening.

THE SOUTHERN MAHRATTA COUNTRY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BELGAUM, JULY 21.

It is very difficult for me to find materials for a letter from "Sleepy Hollow" and I frequently put down my pen in despair, [illegible] when I begin to write to you. I much regret to say, is chronicle a very sad event, namely, the death from fever of Miss Wenden, the sister of Mrs. Forbes, our chaplain's wife, which occurred in the Fort at 4 a.m. yesterday morning. The poor young lady was quite well at the Artillery Ball, which took place ten days before, and it is feared she caught "a chill" after it, which caused the fever to which she succumbed. However, of course, this is only conjecture. The funeral took place last evening, and was attended by most of the officers of the garrison and the Civil Service. The event has thrown a gloom over the whole station, and all festivities are stopped.

Our "rains" began on the 2nd instant, or about a month later than usual ; and as yet we had—for Belgaum —a scanty rainfall last year, viz., 4 inches. The scarcity of drinking purposes alone in the native population was, I may say, a town amongst the tanks were all dry, and the [illegible] very alarming. The however, "all's well that ends well" ; nearly so, the 2nd instant we have had about 15 inches of rain. The rice crops are behind, as indeed all the crops are.

There was considerable "grief" in the mess-room and barracks of the Royal Irish Fusiliers (late 89th) three days ago, when a telegram was received saying they are not to go home in the coming trooping season, as previously settled, but that they are to remain two years longer in India. While the community here sympathise with their disappointment, I am bound to say that the departure of the Royal Irish Fusiliers from Belgaum will be much deplored.

BANGALORE RACES.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

THIRD DAY, TUESDAY, JULY 19.

THE weather was again very good, barring a little high wind. H. H. the Maharaja and suite, together with the élite of Bangalore society, occupied the Grand Stand, which was well filled. There were seven races on the card, the first of which, the Grand Annual Hurdle Race, resulted in

The Assistant Purse was to be contended for next. This was presented by Mr. Abdul Raymon. Distance 1½ mile. At the lotteries Young Revenge was made first favourite ; but though he had twice disappointed his backers, some stiff pimmel their faith on Volunteer. After a good race the result was Four horses faced the starter for the Galloway Stakes. Round the course. Grey Warrior was made a great favourite owing to his previous day's performance, but the knowing ones pinned their faith on Grey Leg, and he justified their expectations, winning by a length.

The Charger Stakes—Rs. 100, together with a Cup valued at Rs. 300, present by the officers in the late Afghan Campaign—was won easily by Spec, the ¾ mile being done in 1-30.

The last race was the event of the evening being a purse of Rs. 1,000, presented by H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore. Eight horses faced the starter. Round the course. There was a false start, when Comrade bolted, going round the course three times before his rider could pull him in. After another false start the other seven were sent away. Fizz sold best in the lotteries ; Exile next ; Linkboy third. Burton, one of the youngest jocks in India, rode Exile splendidly and landed him a short winner ; Linkboy second.

Time—2m. 15sec.

This ended the third day's racing. With regard to the timing business, I think there ought to be some sort of official register kept. No doubt it is very easy to get the time from Colonel Sim or the stewards ; but no man cares to be pestered every now and again for the time. There would be no such trouble if the record was kept.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.
In Consumption its efficacy is unequalled. Dr. Sinclair Coghill, Physician to the Royal National Hospital for Consumption, Ventnor, writes : "I have convinced myself that in Tubercular and the various forms of Strumous Disease, Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil possesses greater therapeutic efficacy than any other Cod Liver Oil which I am acquainted. Dr. de Jongh's Oil is now the only Cod Liver Oil used in the Royal National Hospital for Consumption and Diseases of the Chest." Sold only in capsuled imperial half-pints, pints, and quarts, by all chemists, druggists, and store-keepers. Sole Consignees : Ansar, Harford and Co., 77, Strand, London.

CRICKET AT THE GYMKHANA.

THE first match of the season was commenced on Saturday—Eleven versus Eighteen. Play began rather late, and there was time only to give the Eighteen their innings. They started well, having put together 68 when the sixth wicket went down ; but the wind-up was a very abrupt affair, the remaining eleven wickets going for an addition of sixteen runs only, the innings closing for 84. This was due chiefly to the bowling of Mr. Wyer, who was well on the spot, and the sharp wicket-keeping of Mr. Fanshawe. The only good score was that of Mr. E. Rich, who went in first, and put together 42 before he was got rid of. The match will be continued next Saturday, weather permitting.

PUBLIC HOLIDAYS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—There are only three public holidays in the year :—New-year's Day, the Queen's Birthday, and Christmas. Neither a resolution on the part of the Bombay Chamber of Commerce, nor the closing of the Bombay Custom House for half a day (usually done on native holidays) makes law.

Except Sundays and the three public holidays above named, there is nothing to prevent vessels taking in cargo in Bombay, and vessels do take in cargo, on all days in the year except the abovenamed public holidays and Sundays. Of course there might be a ship-master now and then who would take in cargo on Sunday or New-year's Day, or the Queen's Birthday or Christmas ; but ship-masters as a rule do not allow the Sabbath to be desecrated, and keep the public holidays and allow their ship's company to do likewise.

I cannot conceive what object the Chamber of Commerce in Bombay can have in foisting, or endeavouring to foist, sixteen holidays upon the shipping loading in port. Everybody knows that ships always take in cargo every day in the year except Sundays and the three public holidays I have named ; or at least there is nothing to prevent ships working, and ships do work. How unjust it is to take these days out as holidays I need not say, as it must be obvious even to the members of the Committee of the Chamber who framed the rule for resolution ; and I need scarcely say it is injurious to our port to have any unfair or unjust rules in force. Bombay is destined to be one of the largest shipping ports in the world, and is it not advisable that our local Chamber should take broad views, instead of voting rules that are so obviously unfair to the shipping interest ? It is always a good plan for one to endeavour to put one's self in the place of the party whose case is being considered. Now, supposing any member of the Chamber should put himself in a ship-master's place, and the vessel was chartered to a Bombay house, and there were so many working days and the ship took in cargo on every one of those working days, as she certainly would do if cargo was alongside—how would our merchant (the ship-master) feel to have those days cut out as holidays ? I am sure our merchant ship-master would kick at it, and justly too. He would be in a rage with his merchant and go to law anyhow, and things would be disagreeable all round. Now, all this can be obviated by our Chamber cutting off all days except the three legal holidays above mentioned, or adopting Mr. Roberts's resolution ; "Provided that if the vessel works any one of the Retired holidays by mutual agreement with the shippers such a

Section 13.—That notice should be sent to the Inspector, of any injury to any of the workpeople, if the person injured is prevented from returning to his work in the Factory during 48 hours after the occurrence of the accident.

BENGAL.

FAILING CROPS.—Reports from Jessore, Bengal, state that the crops of dhan and indigo are in a very critical state on account of the unfavourable weather experienced throughout the whole of the past months. The planters say that, under the most favourable circumtances, neither of these crops can be expected to come up to the average: those who have October sowings have commenced manufacturing, but the out-turn hitherto has been very low.—Amrita Patrika.

THE BRUTAL ASSAULT ON A MARINE ENGINEER.—The disgraceful outrage reported in our issue of last week, where three Europeans robbed and assaulted one Mr. John Mitchell, a second engineer of one of the vessels in harbour, has not yet come before the magistrates, as Mitchell still lies at the Medical College Hospital under the attendance of Dr. Macleod. The facts of the case, as reported in our last account, are slightly in error. The report said that the occurreuce took place near the Sailors' Home. This was not the case, for it occurred within the compound of the Sailors' Home. Mitchell recognized one of the ruffians, and the story is that he was lying on a stone seat when these three men came up, and, fancying he was asleep, commenced to rifle his pockets. On his resisting they set upon him and severely injured him. There are two wounds on his head which are not now considered so dangerous as the internal injuries he has sustained. He called out for assistance, but apparently there was no night watchman at hand.—Statesman.

BRITISH INDIA S. N. CO.'s NEW STEAMER.—Through the courtesy of Captain Templetion, R. N. R., we have had the pleasure of looking over the British India Steam Navigation Company's new Steamer Quetta. The Quetta is the first steamer of a new fleet which is being built for the company, but, unlike those which will follow and have their first class saloons and accommodation amid ships and forward, she has hers aft. The Quetta was built at Dunbarton by Messrs. Dennie and Brothers, and is of 3,300 tons burthen, 500 horse power nominal, 400 feet long by 40 broad, steams 15 knots with ease. The first class saloon is very handsome, and extends the whole breadth of the deck. It is panelled with ash and teak in alternate slips—light and dark—and the cornices are navy blue with deep gilding. The furniture is substantial and good, whilst the sideboard and fire place are works of art. The roof in the centre slopes upwards towards a sort of skylight about 18 feet square and is beautifully painted in designs of flowers of the most delicate tints. The skylight is met with again in the music room above the saloon,—in which the long sofas, on which passengers can lounge to hear any member among them who may be inclined to play on the excellent piano provided. Above this, again, is a fine promenade deck situated so as to be cool at any time. The cabins—which run aft from the saloon—are very comfortable, and each, in addition to the ordinary requirements, is supplied with a handsome curtain. Aft of the "music room" is quite a bijou smoking saloon fitted, so that whist, chess, &c., can be played whilst the fragrant weed is consumed. The floor of this saloon is inlaid with woods of different colours. The second class accommodation is almost as good as the first, though of course not so ornamental. There is also a fine ice house and pantry with steam tables to keep joints, &c., warm. Almost everything on board is done by hydraulic pressure, the steering gear (which a child can manipulate and to which the Quetta is said to answer as if she were a mere yacht), the two capstans (fore and aft), the derricks and even to the making and taking in of sail. This portion of the ship's furniture has been fitted up by Messrs. Brown and Bros. of London, whilst the compasses are on the principle patented by Sir William Thompson. Her arrival in Calcutta was the termination of the first voyage she has made. She left London on the 13th of June, and though she staid one day at Malta, one at Aden, two at Colombo and two at Madras—six days in all—she accomplished Calcutta on Tuesday last, or one month to a mention of stoppages. In conclusion we should say Captain has the library which the thoughtful weary hours provided to while away some of the well bound of a long voyage. It consists amber of Church books, the latest novels, and a charge of the Doctor, Services, &c., the whole in the Vishnuman. who is Ex-officio Librarian.—En.

BANK OF BENGAL.

The directors for the half-yearwing is the report of the:—There has been no activity during 30th June last grey during the past half-year. The average of the Bank's rate for demand loans during the period stated has been 4·80 per cent. The net profits at Head Office and Branches amount to Rs. 12,30,311-13-11 which, with Rs. 54,716-1-1 brought forward from the previous half-year, make a total of Rs. 12,85,027-15-0. This sum the Directors have disposed of as follows:—

I.—In payment of a Dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum	Rs.	10,000,000 0 0
II.—Transferred to Bad and Doubtful Debt Fund	"	20,000 0 0
III.—Transferred to Gratuity and Pension Fund	"	30,000 0 0
IV.—Carried forward to Profit and Loss Account of the current half-year	"	2,35,027 15 0
	Rs.	12,85,027 15 0

The Directors have to state that in recognition of the terms of the bye-law, no re-valuation has been made of the securities for about one crore, forming the Bank's permanent investment account, and that these Securities, at the market rates current at the close of the half-year, show, as compared with the rates at which they stand in the Bank's books, a surplus approximating to 8 lacs of rupees. During the half-year, Mr. R. A. Ryall, the Hon'ble G. F. Mewburn and Mr. W. Alexander, resigned their seat as Directors, and the Board, by virtue of Section 29 of the Presidency Banks' Act, appointed in their state, Mr. George Miller of Messrs. Hoare Miller, & Co., Mr. C. H. Moore of Messrs. Gillanders Arbuthnot & Co., and Mr. D. G. Landale of Messrs. George Henderson & Co. At the annual general meeting in August, Mr. J. J. Keswick and Mr. F. J. Fergusson, retire from office as Directors, but are eligible for re-election. Auditors will then also have to be elected and their remuneration fixed. The present Auditors, Mr. H. W. I. Wood, and Mr. W. A. Browne, offer themselves for re-election.

MADRAS.

A KANDAHAR BALL.—The 7th Fusiliers, now garrisoning Fort Saint George, are making preparations to give a grand ball in honour of their services in South Afghanistan. The Ball is to come off some time in the end of this month, and is to be got up annually after this.—Madras Times.

OUTRAGE ON A POST MASTER.—A telegram to the Madras Mail from Mercara, 21st July, states:—A murderous attack was made upon Mr. Subramanyam, the Post Master, last night, by robbers, in view to rob the cash-chest. Mr. Subramanyam was mortally wounded.

AN EMBARRASSING ESCAPE.—Mr. T. J. Maltby, late Madras Civil Service, who was taken home last year as a lunatic, after having killed two natives, and has since been detained in a lunatic asylum during her Majesty's pleasure, having failed to obtain his release by the Court of the Law Courts, has given to the authorities what is usually known as "leg bail," and found his way, with Mrs. Maltby, to Paris.—Mail.

THE MADRAS BOARD REVENUE.—At last Mr. W. K. Puckle, C. I. E., the Second Member of the Board of Revenue, has made up his mind to retire from the service at the conclusion of his present leave; but no one of the service belive that he is officially "no more" until his resignation is gazetted. He has been "going for to go" any time the last six years, and he has tantalised his juniors badly by changing his mind. But this time, it is said, he will not repent at the eleventh hour; but he will place at the service of Tunbridge Wells his ripe knowledge of Tinnevelly, of Revenue Settlements, and of Kist. The present pucka members of the Board are Mr. H. E. Sullivan, 1st; Mr. R. K. Puckle, 2nd; and Mr. H. E. Thomas, 3rd. But Messrs. Puckle and Thomas are in England; so Mr. Longley is acting 2nd, and Mr. Horsley is acting 3rd Member. Mr. Puckle's retirement promotes Mr. Thomas to the second grade, or seat; and when Mr. Sullivan joins the council as Provisional Member, Mr. Longley may reasonably aspire to act as 1st Member, and also to be made pucka 3rd. The return of Mr. Davidson to the Secretariat will throw Mr. Forster Webster out of the Revenue Secretaryship, and the Government will probably send him to Madras, to act as 3rd Member of the Board, junior to Mr. Whiteside, Mr. Barlow, Mr. Melville, Mr. Garstin, and Mr. Leman; and Mr. Whiteside especially may be excused if he should object to be superseded.—Mail.

N.-W. PROVINCES, OUDH, AND PUNJAB.

SERIOUS ROBBERY.—A robbery of a very daring nature was committed at Futu Mohan Singh in Lahore on the 16th inst. It appears that a clerk's house was entered from the roof by some robbers, who broke the locks inside the house and carried away jewels and other valuables to the amount of Rs. 1,200 or 1,300. The locks outside the house were found untouched. The matter has been reported to the police, but no trace of the stolen property or of the robbers has as yet been discovered.—Civil and Military Gazette.

THE MAHOMEDANS AND THE H... The Members of the Dyhoomi Temple Committee.—The Managers have begun to construct additions at Multan, who had begun the fort, in contravention to their temple inside Government after ... on of the orders issued by mutual arrangement made between their predecessors and the managers of the adjoining Mahomedan shrine of Bahawal Haq, and who, in consequence, had been ordered by the Punjab Government either to remove the additions, or to carry out the compromise which was arranged by the Multan authorities.
